

About us

In spring 2017, we founded JKS Engineering AG, which was part of JKS TEN Holding AG from the outset. At the same time, the holding company also took over Neuma AG, marking the starting point of our joint company history.

Our motto from the beginning was:

“Transforming your good ideas into great solutions.”

A lot has happened since then. We can look back on many successfully implemented projects, took over and integrated Maprox AG with its high-precision clamping systems and developed market-ready products with Swiss cleverness together with our customers.

In spring 2025, the ESORO team expanded our engineering portfolio so that our team has grown to around 80 employees consisting of engineering experts, software consultants and production specialists.

We are delighted to support our customers as a full-service provider.

What drives us? It is our fascination and passion for technical solutions.

Transforming your good ideas into great solutions.
